MY MISSION

I'm a Maryland-based cosplayer/costumer who has a passion for teaching and craftsmanship. I hold a B.F.A. in Technical Theater and Costume Design as well as a M.A. in Puppetry (with a high focus on Fabrication). I've taught for over a decade for both higher education and for K-12 students. I work as a professor, specializing in Makerspace classes.

My specialties include sewing, sculpture, embroidery, fabric painting, foam fabrication, thermal plastics, wood carving, 3d printing/modeling, leather, beading, and prop work. I do appearances at conventions as a guest, panelist, professional educator, and craftsmanship judge. I've competed and won at the master level for my work.

SERVICES OFFERED

JUDGING COSPLAY CONTESTS:

- As a professional in my field, I specialize in judging craftsmanship competitions, I strive to bring the best and most accessible experience to your participants.
